1014/18/19 ORDER OF BUSINESSES

The Chair proposed that item 4 on the agenda (Presentation on People’s Juries by Peter Bryant, Shared Future) be taken as the next matter. This was seconded by Councillor Hennessy and carried unanimously.

1015/18/19 PRESENTATION ON PEOPLE’S JURIES BY PETER BRYANT, SHARED FUTURE

Peter Bryant from Shared Future introduced himself to the meeting. Over the past 15 years he has organised approximately 30 Citizens Juries on various topics such as fracking. He said the task of putting together a plan to deal with an extremely complex topic such as climate change is challenging and many tools available (eg. focus groups) are sometimes inadequate. Peter Bryant talked about ‘mini publics’ of which there are two types (1) Citizens Assemblies and (2) Citizens Juries. Assemblies usually comprise of 50-200 randomly selected people and last 20-30 days. Juries usually comprise of 20-30 randomly selected people working together for 25-30 hours. Facilitators work with juries to deliberate and come up with a set of recommendations. Letters setting out the question to be considered are sent to around 200 households. Members of juries are paid a £20 gift voucher for each session attended.

The profile of the jury (age, geography, ethnicity etc) needs to be decided as a first step and the question to be considered, eg. what should we do about climate change in Kendal? Following the first two sessions the jury put together a set of issues which they consider need addressing and this sets the agenda for future sessions. Commentators are called upon and the final session is concerned with writing the recommendations.
A launch event to stakeholders is normally organised and a key part of the process is building an oversight panel made up of stakeholders, to ensure the process is fair and methodology will be respected. It is recommended that the oversight panels comprises of key local politicians, chief executives, academics etc.

Peter Bryant summarised by saying that the idea is that, through the use of mini publics, you get a good idea of what the wider public would have come up with if they had the time and information available.

Councillor Bramham asked who pays for the process. Councillor Owen advised that Council have already voted to allocate £5,000 from their 2019/20 budget in the pursuit of carbon neutrality, however it was estimated that a Citizen’s Jury would cost around £20k. He noted that it was the intention of the Carbon Neutral Kendal subgroup to seek Council’s permission to pursue match funding later on in the meeting.

It was noted by Councillor Evans that the age range for members of the jury starts at 20 and asked how young people would be engaged. Peter Bryant explained that other juries have started from 16 and recommended this be the case. A youth worker is recruited to sit alongside young people to ensure their voice is heard. He added that it was vital the 16-19 age group were included in the process.

Councillor C Hogg had concerns about costs and said very clear outcomes would be necessary to justify the expenditure. He added that a clear implementable plan was needed.

Councillor Archibald was very supportive of the approach and the work of the sub-group. He considered it to be a very good initiative.

The Chair thanked Peter Bryant for a very informative presentation.
He said that many Councils are passing declarations of climate emergency and commented that KTC need to move past mere words and make sure their house is in order to avoid greenwashing.

Five recommendations were set out in the proposal paper. Councillor Owen proposed that Council support those recommendations.

Councillor Archibald picked up on the point of the next generation and said we were likely to fail in leaving the world in a better state for young people than we found it. He said the seriousness of what is happening is being underplayed and it was important to do all we can to have the most impact. He considered that KTC had to follow through on the motion in order to influence businesses, residents and institutions and urged Councillors to support the motion.

The need to look inwardly was raised by Councillor Coleman. He said KTC and its Members should look at all aspects of their lives and make sure they are acting in an environmentally friendly way. Councillor Archibald agreed, adding that Council would need to consider how all future decisions would impact on the climate emergency.

Councillor Rowley seconded the proposal. He observed that public engagement is what KTC does. He commented that a parallel process was required to involve the youth and KTC needed to get the oversight group right in order to spread ideas to the wider public in Kendal. He commented that in doing this KTC could save considerable amounts of carbon in Kendal. He stressed that voting for this motion now would impact on all decisions made by KTC in the future, but there would be enormous benefits if Council got it right.

Councillor C Hogg referred to connections in Killarney, Rinteln and China and said KTC had an opportunity to make a global impact. He commented that Kendal has seen the impact of climate change first hand, when it had to deal with the crisis of flooding following Storm Desmond.

Councillor Owen then read out the 5 recommendations set out in the proposal paper:

1. That Kendal Town Council declare a ‘Climate Emergency’.
2. Pledge to make Kendal carbon neutral by 2030.
3. Call on Westminster to provide the powers and resources to make the 2030 target possible.
4. Seek match funding for and commission a Citizen’s Jury to provide insights from residents on how to reach net-zero by 2030; with the outcomes of the Jury forming the basis of a detailed action plan.
5. The Town council’s Carbon Neutral sub-group are to report back in six months with an update on the actions being taken to address this emergency.

Members voted and the motion was carried with 1 Member against and 1 abstention.

RESOLVED That Council support the 5 recommendations set out in the Proposals for Climate Emergency paper.
